

Who Says the Cream Doesn't Always Rise To the Top?

The cream of the gear world? Seems incongruous, but let's see...it would be a shop that makes the very best gears, using absolutely the latest CNC machine tool technology, the best metrology in its lab and the most careful handling and packaging procedures possible, all in a whistle-clean shop that's greener than a shamrock on St. Paddy's Day.

It would also be staffed by true gearheads, who live and breathe the science of gearmaking, often improving their customers' designs by making recommendations based on, oh, 55+ years of experience producing gears for the toughest, most demanding applications you can imagine.

OK, we've "milked" this scenario for all it's worth.

The cream, in this case, is us.
